Subject: Executive Retail Performance Dashboard Request

Dear Data Analytics Team,

I hope this message finds you well.

As Staples continues to serve customers across multiple regions and product categories, it is becoming increasingly important for our executive team to have a clear understanding of our overall business performance.

I would like you to develop an interactive executive dashboard that provides a comprehensive overview of our retail operations. The dashboard should enable leadership to monitor sales performance, profitability, customer purchasing behavior, product performance, and operational efficiency across different business segments.

The report should be intuitive, visually engaging, and interactive, allowing executives to explore performance from different perspectives such as time, customer segments, product categories, shipping methods, and geographical regions.

Please analyze the available data and determine the most meaningful metrics, visualizations, and business insights that will support strategic decision-making. In addition, I encourage you to highlight any significant trends, opportunities, or areas of concern that could help improve our business performance and customer experience.

I look forward to reviewing your analysis and recommendations.

Best regards,

John A. Lederer
Chief Executive Officer (CEO)
Staples Inc.
